Marcy firm awarded $1.2 million research contract

by Fran Crumb, Information Directorate

ROME, N.Y. — The Air Force Research Laboratory has awarded a $1,200,792 contract to Research Associates for Defense Conversion Inc. of Marcy.

The two-year contract, “Advanced Radar Concepts,” will support research and technology at the AFRL Surveillance Radar Technology Branch.

“Contractor engineers will conduct studies and develop prototypes of technologies and concepts for use in advanced radars,” said Michael O. Little, program manager in the Sensors Directorate at the AFRL Rome Research Site. “Work will be performed on site as part of the Sensors Directorate’s surveillance facilities.” @
